

By the Shores Of Lake Huron

By the shores of Lake Huron, stands a church with grace,
Its doors are open wide, a warm and welcoming space.
It's walls are filled with love, its people full of light,
The Huron Shores United Church, a beacon shining bright.
The pews are lined with folks, from every walk of life,
Together they worship, free from hate and strife.
They sing and they pray, they laugh, and they cry,
Together they celebrate, with hearts that never die.
The Huron Shores United Church, a sanctuary so pure,
A place where all are welcomed, and all are loved for sure.
Come and be a part of it, and let your spirit soar,
For in this church, you'll find, a love that you've never felt before.

Written by Ryan Lalonde

Lake Huron - photo by Willy Valberg – The Weather Network